MyKrd launches new release with email sharing features

A brand new way to share digital business cards with up-to-date links to social networks
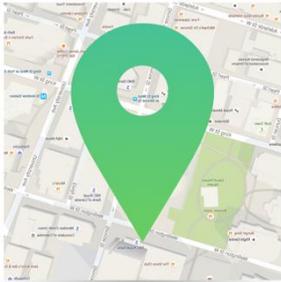

Toronto – May 12, 2016. MyKrd, the digital business card app for tech and creative entrepreneurs, launched an update that introduces sharing cards with live links to social networks and web pages via email. MyKrd users can now share their digital business cards via email, with the recipients being able to access the professional details, contact info and social media links of the sender directly from that email.

"We have listened to our faithful users who have stuck by us despite our imperfections and we have worked continually to improve our sharing technology. Our latest release significantly improves the ability to share your info with individuals who don't yet have the app, making this our best MyKrd experience yet" - Hayden Dent, MyKrd CEO

The new MyKrd release also includes:

Live map links for event cards connections
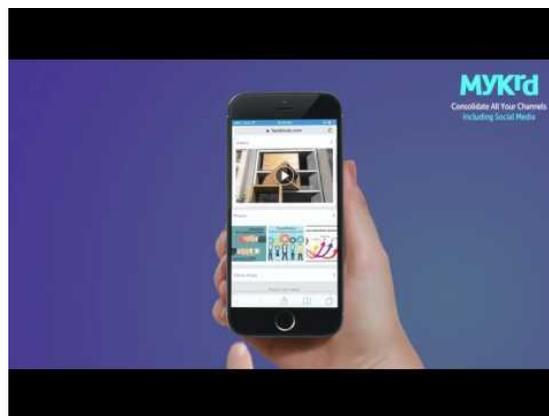

Improved common connections

Improved background image resolutions

About MyKrd:

MyKrd is a digital business card app dedicated to helping entrepreneurs boost their engagement with other businesses. Tech and creative entrepreneurs can create, share and update digital business cards on the fly, so to share marketing and contact information with new connections in any situation. Each digital card can be customized with images and links that target the specific interests of the recipient. Different cards can be created for events, teams, personal and professional requirements, with links to relevant social media accounts. MyKrd is the only business card app that allows to share digital business cards via email with individuals who don't yet have the app. This gives them full access to the professional details, contact info and social media links that are held on your app. You can learn more about MyKrd at this link.

MyKrd demo video

Contact:

Federica Sciori

Marketing Director
+1 647 866 8978
info@mykrd.com

Download the MyKrd App for free today:
App Store
Google Play Store

Follow us on Twitter @MyKrd App and on Facebook for the latest startup news